Recommendations

For Registrar, Sri Dev Suman Uttarakhand University

- The directions of admission for the session 2023-2024 should be sent to affiliated colleges by university up to March 31st 2023, so that colleges may develop their admission prospectus in revised format.
- In tune with the vision of NEP, up to two years gap of eligibility there should not be marks deduction during merit formation. Students should be allowed for two more years gap with marks deduction 5% per year.
- For realizing multidisciplinary nature in selection of major core, major elective and minor elective subjects, Faculty of arts, science and commerce may be divided into various schools. For example, in Arts faculty; school of languages, school of humanities, school of social sciences and school of liberal education. In a similar way, science faculty may be divided in school of physical sciences, school of biosciences to accommodate multidisciplinary nature.
- It has been found in current year admission process, that selection of minor elective subject from science faculty for arts students is difficult.
- In many universities (HNBGU, Lucknow University, SSJ University Almora), the seat allotted in a particular subject includes major core and major elective both. This is also the case for Sri Dev Suman Uttarakhand University. However, everywhere there is clear division of seats among major core and major elective. It may be 2/3:1/3 or 40% for major elective. It may be mentioned here that the student cannot select the subject of major elective for post graduation. Because he/she will study major elective only in first two years of Bachelor course.

- There may be some capping in seats of minor elective subjects as well.
- At present the list of vocational courses does not include/satisfy the local needs of colleges as it is mentioned in the document of NEP. Therefore it is suggested that before conduction of next BOS of university, proposals should be invited from affiliating colleges also according to their local conditions.
- It has been seen that in the current year vocational courses, developed by individual departments, syllabus is very technical to that particular department (mostly in science faculty). Whereas it should be common to most of the students. For example, the vocational course of 'Bio-fertilizers' is very useful for many colleges satisfying their local needs as well, but syllabus developed by Department of Botany is very technical for arts students.
- During BOS, a separate committee comprising of experts belonging to multidisciplinary subjects may be formed for designing of Vocational courses.
- Few suggested vocational courses for coming years are; Fundamentals of Computer, Advance learning of computer, Organic farming, Solid waste management, Water conservation and rain harvesting, Intellectual property right, Renewable energy harvesting etc.
- The credits allotted to co-curricular course is not defined in the university letter. University must adopt the syllabus of co-curricular courses developed at state level and such syllabus should be uploaded on the university website.
- In present session, one co-curricular course is fixed for one semester. In PG colleges, number of students is very large. To conduct a single course for all the students, the concerned teacher may have large burden of teaching. Therefore it is proposed in the interaction program that two co-curricular courses may be allowed in both the semesters of one year. So that half of the students may adopt one course and other half may choose another course. This will be interchanged in the next semester of the same year.

- In the third semester, one more co-curricular course should be introduced as choice for students to avoid any friction. This course may be 'Aptitude and logical reasoning'.
- In end semester exams, two hours are allotted for science subjects, while three hours for arts and commerce subjects. Also in arts and commerce subjects, there are only two sections of short answered and long answered, while in science subjects there are three sections; very short, short and long answered. It has been discussed during interaction program that objective type questions must be included in arts and commerce subjects as well for better competitive preparation of students. Number of hours for end semester exam should be same in all the faculties.
- University must disclose clearly the exam pattern of all type of courses including co-curricular course (qualifying nature).
- University may upload some links of online courses in line with the syllabus of Sri Dev Suman Uttarakhand University.

Recommendations for Director, Higher Education, Uttarakhand

- In first and second semester of degree courses of NEP 2020, two co-curricular courses have been introduced, namely; 'communication skills' and 'environment studies and value education' respectively. There may be management of tutors for these courses. Some fund may be allocated to the colleges for this purpose by Directorate of Higher Education, may be from boys fund deposited by colleges in the directorate.

- In the NEP document, it is stated that for running vocational courses successfully, college may take some fee from students at no profit and no loss basis. Directorate may release clear directions and guidelines in this context.

Recommendations for Principals and Teachers of Higher Education, Uttarakhand

- To meet the challenges of effective implementation of NEP 2020 in HEs of Uttarakhand, mutual cooperation is necessary among HEs.
- To meet the extra teaching of several new courses with existing number of teachers, it is required to develop online platforms having the syllabus in tune with universities of Uttarakhand.
- Principals and teachers may share their study materials and online lecture videos or youtube channel to other colleges as well in this context.
- This may be very useful and helpful for teachers and students across all over the state of Uttarakhand.
- To collect the titles of vocational courses according to local needs from the colleges for further sending it to university.

Path Forwards

- To send the recommendations for university to Registrar, Sri Dev Suman Uttarakhand University and Convener of NEP in University.
- To send the recommendations to the Director, Higher Education Uttarakhand.
- To initiate the process among principals and teachers on the suggested recommendations for them.

मसूरी, लोकसत्य।
